Where Are They Now?

FINOLA HUGHES (EX-ANNA, GH, 1985-92, 1995, 2006, 2007, 2008; AMC, 2001-03; GH: NIGHT SHIFT, 2008; EX-ALEX, AMC, 1999-2001)

Even though it's been nearly two years since we last saw Hughes on a soap, the mother of three's life is still busy, just the way she likes it. "Dylan is 9, Cash will be 6 this summer and my beautiful baby girl [Sadie] is 2 1/2," she beams. "They're all fantastic." As for juggling a show biz career and motherhood, she's quick to note, "Oh, no, there's no juggling involved. I let it suck me under and spit me out the other side, and when I come up for air, that's when I put the makeup on and I go out [laughs]."

Hughes has just been named the spokesperson for Viviscal, an all-natural hair system to prevent thinning hair and stimulate growth. "I wanted to help," she explains of the gig. "There are a lot of women experiencing hair loss, and no one will talk about it." The actress knows what she's talking about: While doing AMC after Dylan's birth, she felt it firsthand. "As an actress, you're exposed every day on TV, but I had a brilliant hairstylist there who found ways for me to cover up. It was a three-to-six month period until it started to subside and when I Viviscal CEO] and got onboard."

Hughes continues to schedule acting jobs between commitments. "I just did a part on an independent film with Anton Yelchin [of Star Trek] and Felicity Jones. I'll be doing an episode of the ABC Family series

MAKE IT OR BREAK IT, and I've got a couple other things I've been working on to possibly produce." Does that mean no time for daytime? Well, maybe not in Port

Charles, considering Pine Valley just got a lot closer since AMC moved to L.A. Smiles Hughes, "Rebecca [Budig, Greenlee] is a good friend of mine. I see her all the time, and we joke that I should go in and mess up her and David [Anna's ex]. I could totally do that, so I said, 'If you need any help with that, just let me know [laughs].'"
